PREFACE

IN preparing the present edition of our Seed Catalogue, our desire has been to give a selection of the most choice flowers, avoiding the long list of names usually given in catalogues, a great part of which are of no value in our climate. Having been engaged over thirty years in growing and harvesting seeds—flower and vegetable—we flatter ourselves we can safely select the finest varieties, and such as cannot fail to please amatuer cultivators, as it is very difficult for an inexperienced person to select from the long list usually given. Being extensively engaged in importing and growing the new and rare plants and florists' flowers, it will be readily seen that our facilities for saving seed of the choicest description are unsurpassed. The seeds are of a quality which growers alone can offer; whilst such articles as it is necessary to import are received direct from the first growers in England, France and Germany.

We guarantee that all seed sold by us shall prove to be as represented, to this extent: that should they prove otherwise, we will replace them or send other seeds to the same value. But we cannot guarantee the crop any further than the above offer, as there are so many causes which operate unfavorably in the germination of seeds and maturity of the crop, over which we have no control. Among the causes of failure may be mentioned unfavorable weather, which is one of the most important. The soil may be in proper condition when the seed is planted, but the weather which follows may be cold and wet, which will cause the seed to rot; or it may be hot and dry, which destroys the germ before it shows itself. The soil may also be unfavorable for the variety of seed planted. The seeds may be and are frequently destroyed by vermin of various kinds. And lastly, changes not unfrequently occur, especially among new hybridized varieties, by which frequent sports are produced which give the planter the idea that his seeds are badly mixed. Such occurrences are beyond the power of man to prevent, and for such we cannot be responsible.

Forward Money with the Order.—Please send money with the order, sufficient to cover the whole bill, to facilitate the execution of your orders. During the busy season, to make out bills for customers, mail, charge, and in a few days receive the money, make the proper credit and send receipt, requires more work than we can possibly perform during the great press of business in the spring.

We decline sending goods long distances C. O. D.

The safe arrival of all seeds guaranteed. If a package is injured or lost, we will replace it as soon as informed of the fact.

Please Write the Orders Legibly in a list apart from the body of the letter to facilitate execution and prevent errors. Orders for plants should be on a separate sheet. This Catalogue Annuls all Former Prices.

CULTIVATION

Flowering plants are from various parts of the world, temperate and tropical, and their habits are as various. Some are found on mountains, others in rich moist valleys, and again on arid plains. It follows that their treatment must be very dissimilar, and that it is not in the province of a catalogue to give any lengthened cultural directions. We will only offer a few general remarks on seed growing.

In this latitude (Washington) nearly all the Hardy Annuals can be sown in April—say from first to middle—considering the season and the condition of the ground; whilst the more tender varieties—natives of warm climates—should not be committed to the ground before the middle of May. Such tender plants as Double Zinnias, Clianthus, Dampierii, Cypress Vine, etc., should not be sown before the latter season, as they are natives of warm climates; and when sown early, and the ground is cold, they frequently perish. When this occurs, the blame is, of course, placed on the seedsman; when, had they been sown in proper season, success was certain.

Hardy Perennials—The common and large-seeded kinds may be sown in the open borders any time in April, but the rare and more delicate species will succeed with greater certainty if raised in a close frame, with or without bottom heat. Thus treated, nearly all will flower the first season if sown early or planted out the early part of May. All those with very small seeds should be sown under glass. Amateurs will do well to bear in mind that though many Perennial seeds vegetate as quickly as those of Annuals, there are some others which usually remain dormant for weeks, and even months. To this class belong the Cyclamens, Pæonies, Fraxinella, etc. Our native Perennials are best sown in autumn, or as soon as gathered, and they will then vegetate the following spring. As this is not always practicable, the plan of steeping the seeds before sowing, for twenty-four hours may be adopted with great advantage in many cases. Half-hardy Perennials require the same treatment as hardy Perennials, differing only in their need of winter protection.

Greenhouse and hot-house seeds need a moist, warm temperature, such as the propagating-house or hot-bed frame. All seeds sown in frames or houses require shading, in bright weather, during the middle of the day, especially as spring advances. For all seeds sown in pots, under glass, a compost composed of well-decomposed leaf mould, sand and sandy loam, will answer very well Sow very thinly; cover the seeds with about their own thickness of soil. After the germination has once commenced, the surface of the soil should on no account be allowed to become dry. Very small seeds, such as Mimulus, Lobelia, Calceolaria, etc., should not be covered with soil, but be sprinkled thinly on the soil, which should be previously watered from a fine hose. Chinese Primula germinates best when covered with a layer of damp moss. The seed often fails to grow from being too deeply covered with soil, and many other failures are attributable to the same cause. A writer in the "Garden London" makes the following remarks on the germination of seeds: "I have, at the present time. two kinds of shrub seeds just appearing above ground, that have been sown, as nearly as possible, two years. In the ordinary course of affairs, many people, not understanding their nature, would have thrown them away at least eighteen months ago and blamed their seedsman for sending them bad seeds. Primula Japonica, if kept till spring, or until it has become thoroughly dry, will not germinate for at least a year, and sometimes two, and the same holds good in the case of many hardy plants.

VEGETABLES.

SELECT VEGETABLE SEEDS.

IN offering to the public my stock of Garden Seeds, I do so with great confidence; all are new, fresh and of the finest description. Special attention is given to the selection of such varieties as succeed best in the Middle and Southern States, which, from my long and extensive experience, I can select with confidence. Such varieties as are best grown in this country are either grown by myself or by experienced growers by contract for my trade; whilst those varieties it is found necessary to import I receive from the most reliable growers in England and the continent. All Garden Seeds by the ounce will be prepaid by mail—when ¼ pound and upwards are ordered, 16 cents per pound and 25 cents per quart must be added for postage—as well as on all articles marked thus*; when this is omitted, an amount equivalent to the postage will be deducted from the order.
